SUMMARY OF THE LAWSUIT

A class action lawsuit entitled Access Now, Inc., et al. v. Ambulatory Surgery Center Group, Ltd., et al., Case No. 99-0109-CIV-GARBER, is currently pending in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida involving disability access at the facilities of Virginia Psychiatric Company, Inc. ("Medical Center"). The complaint alleges on behalf of all disabled individuals, including individuals with mobility, visual, or hearing impairments, that the Medical Center is in violation of the Americans with Disabilities Act and its implementing regulations. The complaint alleges that the Medical Center has failed to provide equal access for persons with disabilities to the Medical Center's facilities, because numerous physical, communication, structural, and program barriers exist at the Medical Center. The Medical Center has denied these allegations. By entering into a settlement of this action, the Medical Center does not admit or imply that it engaged in any wrongful action or inaction, or damages or injured anyone in any fashion.

This lawsuit has been certified by the Court as a class action. The Named Plaintiffs serve as class representatives, and their counsel are Miguel M. de la O and David E. Marko of the law firm de la O, Marko, Magolnick & Leyton. Those lawyers serve as counsel for the class. The Medical Center is represented by Elizabeth Rodriguez of the law firm Ford & Harrison LLP.

The United States District Court has preliminarily approved that settlement, although the Court has made no findings and offers no opinion with respect to the merits of the settlement. The proposed settlement provides in substance that the Medical Center will make modifications and alterations to its Facilities, including public restrooms, paths of travel, parking, and other public areas within the facilities, with the express purpose of improving and/or providing equal access to and usability of the Facilities by persons with disabilities. No money damages are to be paid to members of the class.
